

Simply because a person does business with a company, does not mean they wish to receive telemarketing calls from that company.
Telemarketing calls are bothersome.